

Fractured Space

Fractured Space, an exhibition featuring the artwork of Carolyn Nicita, explores the mathematics behind the patterns shared by the vast diversity in life and the universe. This collection, curated by Samir Chala, Founder of Gallery Without Borders & Kin Agency for the Arts, will be featured at Gallery Without Borders from May 7th through May 31st, 2011.

Carolyn Nicita is a digital fractal artist and an internationally published science fiction writer who grew up in San Diego. Her art is created using the same mathematical functions and algorithms that are found in nature producing unique images that are evocative of natural materials and organic life.
